

I think you should keep the state do not call lists. If telemarketers want the federal government to get rid of individual state do not call lists, it must be because it would make it advantageous to them. Perhaps they could fall through some cracks in the federal do not call list. I like the fact that my phone is not ringing all the time. I want to keep it that way. Thank you!